infinite comfort.
I have no doubt Frank has laid the foundation of some valuable and influential English friendships which will be of service to him in his future career.

We may not meet again in the mortal coil dear brother, indeed I may say we are sure we shall not stand face to face until we reach the happy Summer-land, but I follow you in spirit and go with to the scenes I often days may be as serene and peaceful as the outset of your life like my own was stormy, & I pray that the loving angels that now hover around you may tenderly watch over you in the perils of the deep which you are again to visit & attend you in safety to the midst of the dear family circle of which you are the beloved center.

I congratulate you on the sympathetic companionship here of your dear Son Frank in this country whose filial devotion must have been a source of

My very dear Friend & Brother

It being an impossibility to reach you in person as you take leave of our shores, I send you by the hands of my daughter my farewell thoughts and greetings. You take with you my very dear brother the earnest wishes of my heart that the remainder of your earthly
